The Fukuyama Summer Festival

Our hometown of Fukuyama is in the eastern part of Hiroshima prefecture. It's about 25 minutes from Hiroshima City by Shinkansen and one hour from Hiroshima Airport by bus. The population is about 470,000. It is the second largest city in Hiroshima, and the fourth largest in the Chugoku-Shikoku area.

Our hometown is famous for roses and we have a rose festival every year in May. We can enjoy both roses and many other kinds of fun activities.

We also have a traditional festival called the Fukuyama Summer Festival every year, from August thirteenth to fifteenth. On the thirteenth, people enjoy a traditional dance together called Niagari-odori on the main street in front of the station. People dance to the sound of a shamisen playing a tune called “niagari” along with other Japanese traditional instruments such as shakuhachi, kane and taiko. When people dance, they wear a yukata and various headpieces like hachimaki, tenugui or origasa. To make sounds while dancing, people carry a small noise maker called a Yotsu-take in their hands.
