

The sights of Fukuyama

Do you know about history or tradition of Fukuyama city?

First, about Fukuyama castle. It is at the center of Fukuyama city. It was built by Mizuno Katunari or cousin of Tokugawa Ieyasu about 400 years ago, Edo period. I think we should protect it and hand it down.

Second, about Tomonoura to Tomonoura was an old major port. There are some temples and shrines. Tomonoura is crowde as a tourist site. For example, Joyato or Fukuzen temple are very popular. By the way, I have been to Joyato. Joyato and the Seto Inland Sea shone in the sun was beautiful. Rows of houses of Edo period in the town still remain up to today in Tomonoura. I think it is wonderful.

If there are some foreign people who don't know about Fukuyama city, I would like to tell them about it. How about you? Why don't you go there?
